Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to the eighth Regional Anaesthesia day of Western Switzerland that will be held on Saturday, June 17, 2023 in Lausanne, CHUV.

Again this year, we have invited major international experts in Regional Anaesthesia who will give 'hot topic' lectures in the morning and be able to answer any concerns that you might have when you provide regional anaesthesia. We are very pleased and honoured to welcome Pr. Guy Weinberg, who will lecture on how he discovered the benefit of intralipid as an antidote to local anaesthetic systemic toxicity.

In addition, we have improved the workshop formula with suggestions made by delegates in previous years. As an example, the lectures will start at 8.30 am to allow participants from all parts of the country to arrive in time, and enjoy the meeting from the very beginning. Moreover, we have extended the duration of each station so that participants will have more time to learn the anatomy and practice ultrasound for a considerable number of peripheral and central nerve blocks on models. Every instructor is an internationally recognised expert who will show you many hands-on tricks and tips to help you achieve a high success rate. We are convinced that that this meeting will provide exciting, comprehensive up-to-date learning opportunities and ground for fruitful discussions, for both consultants and trainees. And last but not least, this workshop is ESRA-approved for the EDRA exam.

We greatly appreciate the support of the medical companies involved for their financial contribution and provision of ultrasound machines.

We extend a very warm welcome to you and look forward to seeing you in Lausanne.
